This Week's Featured Notices

On Monday (tomorrow) 9th October the 7:00pm Mass will be a Missa Cantata for the feast day of Blessed John Henry Cardinal Newman who is one of the patrons of the Brisbane Oratory in Formation.

Centenary of the Miracle of the Sun

Friday, October 13th is the centenary of the miracle of the sun that took place as the culmination of Our Lady's final apparition at Fatima.

On that day the 6:30am Mass will be a votive Mass in honour of Our Lady. The 9:00am Traditional Latin Mass will be a votive Mass of the Immaculate Heart of Mary, with a commemoration of St Edward.

Following the Holy Hour that evening there will be a renewal of consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

First Men's Secular Oratory begins 12th October, at 7:30pm in Mary Immaculate church.

Regular sessions of prayer, formation and fellowship for lay people are the backbone of Oratorian work. The Fathers of the Brisbane Oratory in Formation are now beginning monthly evening sessions of Secular Oratory for men and women aged 18+.

The sessions will include a short sermon, meditation, prayer and time for discussion - all centred on growth in the Christian life.

Secular Oratory begins at 7:30pm in Mary Immaculate church and goes for an hour.

The dates for the next few months are:

- 7th November; 6th February (Women's Oratory)
- 14th December (Men's Oratory)

St John Fisher Church

St John Fisher Church needs a parishioner to take over the very important music ministry. No music experience is required, only an interest in music for the Mass. Full support will be provided. Ideally, a second person as back-up for Cris on Sunday mornings would also be a great help. Please phone Christine on 0418 730 966 for further information.

Altar Servers Wanted

Boys approximately 10 years and over and young men who would like to learn to serve at the altar for the Traditional Latin Mass (and the new Mass) are invited to talk to one of the priests or call Matt Hobbs on 0468 660 466.

Full training and support is provided.

Reflection

Archbishop Fulton J. Sheen on Love and Marriage

It is not true that human relations are matters of instinct and in particular of the sex instinct. Man is not a creature of instincts like an animal. Since he is a rational creature, his instincts are to be directed reasonably. Most men have a hunting instinct, but this does not give them a right to shoot their mothers-in-law. There are times, too, when an instinct has to be suppressed; a husband must often suppress an instinct for his wife's sake, and the wife must suppress an instinct for her husband's sake.

Nor is it any truer to say that marriage is based on sex adjustment than that education is based on teacher-student adjustment. Marriage is based on love, not sex, sex being one of the means God has instituted for the deepening of love between husband and wife. Sex is biological and has its definite zones of satisfaction; under certain circumstances, love includes all of these, but it is directed to the totality of the person loved – his or her mind, body, soul. To make marriage a matter of sex adjustment is to reduce human beings to the level of jackals and the ethics of the home to the practices of a barnyard. Animals feel, but man loves.

Why is it that lovers always speak of "our love" and understand it as something more than the addition of the love of each? They feel themselves as pulled together by some bond outside of them, so that instead of two in love there seem to be three. There is the beloved, the lover, and love. What is this but a reflection of the Triune God, where Lover, Beloved, and God are one?

Why is it that everything becomes part of their love? Moon and stars, flowers and the birds, evening skies, waterfalls, and the fresh breath of springtime all seem to be ministers to their love. This can only be because love is already in them, put there as they fell from the hand of Uncreated Love. Lovers have better vision than others, and that is why they can see in things the love God put there.

To be the victim of an unhappy marriage does not necessarily mean one is deprived of happiness. There are levels of happiness. One is the level of the flesh, another the level of the mind, another the level of the Divine. The law running through the universe is that no one ever mounts to a higher life without dying to a lower one. Love either mounts it or it dies. When the roadway of the flesh is blocked, the highway of the spirit can be opened. What is true in marriage is also true in the spiritual life. Souls dedicated to God often have the "dark night of the body." In both cases the acceptance of trials and sacrifice is the condition of finding richer areas of love.

Fr Wise will be away from Monday 9th October until Friday 20th October on his annual retreat and the last week of his holidays.

MASS READINGS

First Reading: Isaiah 5:1-7

Let me sing to my friend the song of his love for his vineyard. My friend had a vineyard on a fertile hillside. He dug the soil, cleared it of stones, and planted choice vines in it. In the middle he built a tower, he dug a press there too. He expected it to yield grapes, but sour grapes were all that it gave. And now, inhabitants of Jerusalem and men of Judah, I ask you to judge between my vineyard and me. What could I have done for my vineyard that I have not done? I expected it to yield grapes. Why did it yield sour grapes instead? Very well, I will tell you what I am going to do to my vineyard: I will take away its hedge for it to be grazed on, and knock down its wall for it to be trampled on. I will lay it waste, unpruned, undug; overgrown by the briar and the thorn. I will command the clouds to rain no rain on it. Yes, the vineyard of the Lord of hosts is the House of Israel, and the men of Judah that chosen plant. He expected justice, but found bloodshed, integrity, but only a cry of distress.

The Word of the Lord

Response: Thanks be to God

Responsorial Psalm 79

(Said by all)

You brought a vine out of Egypt;
to plant it you drove out the nations.
It stretched out its branches to the sea,
to the Great River it stretched out its shoots.

Then why have you broken down its walls?
It is plucked by all who pass by.
It is ravaged by the boar of the forest,
devoured by the beasts of the field.

God of hosts, turn again, we implore,
look down from heaven and see.
Visit this vine and protect it,
the vine your right hand has planted.

And we shall never forsake you again:
give us life that we may call upon your name.
God of hosts, bring us back;
let your face shine on us and we shall be saved.

Second Reading: Philippians 4:6-9

There is no need to worry; but if there is anything you need, pray for it, asking God for it with prayer and thanksgiving, and the peace of God, which is so much greater than we can understand, will guard your hearts and your thoughts, in Christ Jesus. Finally, brothers, fill your minds with everything that is true, everything that is noble, everything that is good and pure, everything that we love and honour, and everything that can be thought virtuous or worthy of praise. Keep doing all the things that you learnt from me and have been taught by me and have heard or seen that I do. Then the God of peace will be with you.

The Word of the Lord

Response: Thanks be to God

Alleluia, alleluia! I call you friends, says the Lord, because I have made known to you everything I have learnt from my Father. Alleluia!

Gospel: Matthew 21:33-43

Jesus said to the chief priests and the elders of the people, 'Listen to another parable.

There was a man, a landowner, who planted a vineyard; he fenced it round, dug a winepress in it and built a tower; then he leased it to tenants and went abroad. When vintage time drew near he sent his servants to the tenants to collect his produce. But the tenants seized his servants, thrashed one, killed another and stoned a third. Next he sent some more servants, this time a larger number, and they dealt with them in the same way. Finally he sent his son to them. "They will respect my son" he said. But when the tenants saw the son, they said to each other, "This is the heir. Come on, let us kill him and take over his inheritance." So they seized him and threw him out of the vineyard and killed him. Now when the owner of the vineyard comes, what will he do to those tenants?' They answered, 'He will bring those wretches to a wretched end and lease the vineyard to other tenants who will deliver the produce to him when the season arrives.' Jesus said to them, 'Have you never read in the scriptures: It was the stone rejected by the builders that became the keystone. This was the Lord's doing and it is wonderful to see? 'I tell you, then, that the kingdom of God will be taken from you and given to a people who will produce its fruit.'

The Gospel of the Lord.

Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ
